	Comment: issues, the memoranda of law of the parties and the arguments of counsel at oral argument on 9-12-12, it is ordered as follows: 1. On the issue of "Out of County" signatures, the court holds that challenged signatures on pages of the Nom. Papers for counties other than the county where the elector is registered to vote are not valid and orders that these signatures be stricken. 2. On the issue of signatures where the signer failed to write the year of signing, the court holds that those signatures are invalid and those signatures are stricken, unless cured by a sworn affidavit of the signing elector by 9-21-12. Senior Judge Colins dissents from this position of the court's ruling and would hold that such signatures are not materially defective. 3. On the issue of the "Not Registered at Address" challenges, the signatures of registered voters where the address written by the voter does not match his or her registration address in the SURE system, the court holds that the mere fact by itself that the address does not match the address in the SURE system does not invalidate the signature. This ruling does not preclude Objectors from showing that the signature on the Nom Papers is not the signature of a registered voter. This ruling applies to both federal and state candidates. Judge Covey dissents from this position of the court's ruling and would hold that the signature is invalid if the signer's address on the Nom. Papers does not match the address in the SURE system and no evidence has been presented to show that the individual is in fact the person claimed to be the qualified elector. Opinion to Follow
